HOLIDAY IS OBSERVED IN GREENCASTLE

Business is suspended as city marks Thanksgiving

Greencastle, along with the state and nation, observed the fifth Thanksgiving since the end of hostilities of World War II today.

Business was at a standstill practically all stores, shops and offices were closed for the day.

The day was quietly marked by residents of the community. Entertained relatives with dinners in honor of the day. Some of the more prominent went to the woods for their luck at hunting. Others from the city to the day with friends and in other communities.

Business was rushing Wednesday all grocery stores reported food sales indicating that everyone would have a special in the way of Thanksgiving dinner.

Public offices, including the office and the Putnam court house were closed about the day as were both banks.

There was a general exodus of students from the DePauw campus Wednesday. Public offices of Greencastle dismissed Wednesday afternoon and the boys and girls are enjoying the day until Monday.

The squad, cut to 15 men by head coach Jay McCreary Monday, will have eight men returning from last year's team. Six sophomores and a senior round out the crew.

Last year's veterans include John Stauffer, John Heise, Russell Freeland, Tom Beck, Don Markle, John Mote, Bill Herron, and Glenn Eckelman.

Sophomores include Pat Patterson, Jim Channess, John Mull, Bill Nichols, Hal Muncie and Lee Hamilton. John Hammond, a senior, completes the roster. McCreary has not scheduled practices Thursday or Friday, at a full session is on the board or Saturday and tapering off drills Monday.

MANY NABBED FOR VIOLATING HUNTING LAWS

100 ARRESTS BY STATE GAME WARDENS; FINES MORE THAN $1,900

INDIANAPOLIS — Conservation officers of the Indiana Department of Conservation's enforcement division are on the march carrying out the huge task of apprehending violators of various hunting and fishing laws. Arrests totaling nearly one hundred have been made in the first 10 days of November. Fines to the amount of $1,911 have been assessed and paid by violators. Scores of weapons have been confiscated as have the personal hunting and fishing licenses and free permits of these guileless individuals who have run afoul the law.

"The Conservation Department does not wish to spoil the party for the true sportsman," said Henry P. Cottingham, director of the Division of Fish and Game. "By war and wide these individuals want to see fair play. They are not violators themselves and they resent anyone who is. They most assuredly wish to see those who violate laws governing hunting, fishing and trapping, brought to justice. We know and have known that violations are far flung throughout the state. Indiana is a big state and it is quite a task for our enforcement officers to cover the territory assigned them. However they are on the job and any violators they catch up with will be dealt with to the letter of the law."

Col. Millard Davis, superintendent of the enforcement division of the Conservation Department, is doing business and a score of high-powered and valuable shotguns, rifles and even revolvers confiscated following arrests. Owners have the right to buy their guns back at appraisal prices set by the department.

Charges upon which arrests were made include killing hen pheasants, an open season for which does not exist; hunting and possessing raccoon during closed season; hunting rabbits during closed season; no license, killing wild duck in closed season; trespassing, hunting waterfowl after sun time (one hour before sunset); hunting migratory water fowl without U. S. duck stamp; no plug in gun; hunting migratory water fowl with a motor boat; illegal possession of a wild goose; hunting without proper license; misrepresentation for resident license; allowing dog to chase raccoon; possession of raw fur in closed season; shooting rabbits at night on highway; having more than five rabbits on person; and unlawful use of an outboard motor for taking ducks.

Realtors Elect Michigan Man

CHICAGO, Nov. 23. (UP)—Robert P. Gerholz, Flint, Mich., is the new head of the National Association of Real Estate Brokers.

Gerholz was elected yesterday to succeed T. H. Maener, Omaha, Neb. The Association's 42nd annual convention also adopted a resolution proposing amendments to the constitution to prohibit the Federal government from engaging in any business customarily conducted by private enterprise and limiting the national debt to a fixed percentage of the national income.

ACCEPT NO GIFTS

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Nov. 24. (UP)—School authorities have ordered teachers not to accept Christmas presents from pupils because competition among children to outdo one another burdens smaller income families.

Public schools Superintendent Joseph W. Hedge said pupils whose gifts were not as fine as their schoolmates felt frustrated and unhappy.

"No Compromise" On Bus Rules

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 24. (INS)—Maj. Robert O'Neal, state police executive officer, asserted today there will be "No compromise" on rules governing seating arrangements of school buses.

O'Neal said the state will not require junking of buses where the seats now face toward the center, but they must be removed so the seats face toward the front.

The state police executive aid, however, said it would not be practicable to change some buses because the required aisle space could not be obtained with forward-facing seats.

O'Neal said side seats are dangerous because sudden stops shove the whole row of children forward, throwing them against the driver and endangering the lives of the children.

The state police officer said all ownership trustees have been informed of these requirements. He said all condemned buses must be replaced by Feb. 15. The deadline for repairing buses is Dec. 1.

The Indiana School Bus safety committee recently labeled a "death trap" 1,840 buses.

Major O'Neal explanation followed the protest of a Decatur county driver, Gordon M. Amos who said the School Bus Safety committee was overstepping its authority and making unreasonable demands.

ENJOY VACATION

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 24. (UP)—Indiana's school kids were enjoying their second vacation in less than a month today. Classes were dismissed for the remainder of the week in observance of the Thanksgiving holiday.

In October, the term's first holiday came when teachers attended sessions of the Indiana State Teachers' Association convention.

BUSINESS IN STATE DIPPED LAST MONTH

STRIKES CAUSED RECORD DROP IN OCTOBER FOR INDIANA

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 24. (INS)—Strikes caused a decline of 30 per cent in October business in Indiana, the largest drop on record of any single month, according to the Indiana Business Review of Indiana University.

At the same time, the Indiana Employment Security Division reported that the strikes were chiefly responsible for the loss of almost 76,000 workers in October industries from mid-September to mid-October.

Everett L. Gardner, Security Division director, said the labor disputes were reported in the steel, coal mining, cement and fabricated structural metals industries.

The mid-October total of 1,110,000 workers was 6.4 per cent less than in mid-September and 8.8 less than mid-October, 1948.

The Business Review said: The effect of the work stoppages in the coal and steel industries was two-fold—employment and production in the industries themselves reached new low levels, and employment and production in industries affected by the strikes also declined.

"The effect of the strikes also was amplified in many businesses and industries by the high level which had prevailed just prior to the strikes. At that time newspaper advertising and bank deposits, to cite two examples, had reached a new high for the year.

Other businesses, while not at peak levels for the year, were quite high and were operating at a rate which could be maintained only with all parts of the economy of the state in full stride."

The I. U. publication reported moderate declines in nearly every business and industry except production of building limestone.

The Review showed that manufacturing employment usually declines about one per cent between September and October; this year, however, it was about 12 per cent under September and about 17 per cent less than a year ago. Non-manufacturing employment was about five per cent lower than a year ago. Building construction and electricity production declined moderately from a month earlier.

Department store sales were seasonally the lowest since last March. Bank deposits, after allowing for seasonal changes, were the lowest since July, and newspaper advertising was the lowest since January.

The Security Division found that the steel strike resulted in a complete stoppage of all production work with only necessary maintenance work being done. Labor disputes were reported in the fabricated metals, and stone, clay and glass groups as well.

Pastor Speaks At Rotary Club

"It's Good To Give Thanks" was the subject of an informative and thought-provoking talk by Rev. Harry P. Walrond, minister of the Presbyterian Church, before an audience of Greencastle Rotarians on Wednesday. Rev. Ralph Saunders introduced the speaker.

Rev. Walrond in his talk stated that the original Thanksgiving meal of the Pilgrim fathers was not a sumptuous feast but was very simple indeed. Out of the original colony consisting of 102 members only 55 survived the first winter, yet these survivors had much to be thankful for in weathering a severe winter, constant threats by Indians, and in growing a food crop that was sufficient to enable them to survive.

The speaker endeavored to show that we are inclined to overlook the simple things for which to be thankful, and the tendency prevalent in this modern age to expect so much of material things that the simple and more precious blessings are forgotten.

John Dietrich of Greencastle was a guest of the club.

Election Won By AFL Council

BETTENDORF, Ia., Nov. 24. (UP)—The AFL Aluminum Workers Council yesterday won a bargaining election among production workers at the new Aluminum Company of America plant here.

Alan Bruce, Minneapolis, field examiner for the National Labor Relations Board, said a majority of the production workers and machinists voted to be represented by the AFL union.

He announced a tie between the aluminum workers and the CIO United Steelworkers in the mill maintenance section, with a runoff election possible.

Another AFL union, the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, won the election in the plant's electrical unit.

DEPAUW GRAD RESIGNS TOP ATOMIC POST

DAVID E. LILIENTHAL QUILTS ATOMIC ENERGY COMMISSION

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24. (INS)—David E. Lilienthal resigned the chairmanship of the Atomic Energy Commission yesterday with the declaration that the U. S. atomic program is in "sound condition."

The resignation was accepted by President Truman in a friendly letter of regret and was announced by the White House.

Lilienthal gave no specific reason for his action.

He reminded the President, however, that his 20 years in public service have been rewarding "in every way except financially."

He also said that one of his chief reasons for wanting to return to private life "is that I may be able to engage in public discussion and public affairs with a greater latitude than is either feasible or suitable for one who carries specific public responsibilities."

Lilienthal has headed the atomic energy program you feel past three years. His previous job was director of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

The atomic energy chief referred to the state of the atom program when he told the President in his letter of resignation: "I shall leave with reluctance, but deeply gratified that from your special knowledge of the sound condition of the country's atomic energy program you feel that my request may now appropriately be granted."

It sounded an optimistic note as complimenting the President on his faith "that in God's own time and way the dark shadow of the destructive use of the atom will give way to the bright prospect it holds out for all mankind."

Lilienthal will hold a news conference at 10 a. m. Monday to discuss his resignation.

Break In Coal Dispute Looms

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24. (INS)—Plans for a meeting of northern coal operators in Pittsburgh Friday today brought forecasts of a possible week end break in the lengthy soft coal dispute.

It was learned that restricted numbers of the operators will attend the meeting, out of which may come a resumption of contract negotiations with United Mine Workers President John L. Lewis.

Lewis' 375,000 soft coal diggers are poised for a new strike starting Dec. 1.

One informant in the industry indicated that bargaining may be resumed between management and union next Monday—just three days before the strike deadline.

There was some feeling, however, that a resumption of negotiations would give Lewis an opportunity to extend the current strike truce and avoid another pre-Christmas walkout of the miners.

WHEAT CUT BACK?

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24. (INS)—The United States told the United Nations food and agriculture conference yesterday that it was prepared to cut back wheat production in order to promote "sound land use."

DENNIS HURST IS POSTMASTER IN OHIO CITY

WELL KNOWN FORMER RESIDENT; SON OF EDGAR HURST

Dennis Hurst, son of Theodore Hurst of near this city and a former resident of Greencastle, has been named postmaster at Marietta, O. it is announced. He will succeed the present postmaster who is retiring because of his age.

The Marietta Daily Times in speaking of the new appointment said in part:

Dennis E. Hurst has been endorsed for the post by the Washington Co. Democratic Executive Committee, by Charles D. Fogle, Jr., state central committeeman and by Cong. Robert T. Secrest of the 15th Ohio District.

Endorsement by the Democratic party is tantamount to appointment, and the receiving of applications is merely a formality. If Hurst is not certified officially by the Civil Service Commission before McCauley retires, it is expected that he will be named acting postmaster and will be certified later. The Marietta postmaster receives $5,000 a year.

Hurst is a district manager of the Ralston Purina Co. of St. Louis and lives at 308 Bellevue St. with his wife and two sons, Ted and Don. He has been a resident of Marietta for 20 years, coming here from Greencastle, Ind. He is a member of the Washington Co. Board of Elections, the Washington Co. Fair Board, a director of the Marietta Savings & Loan Co. and a member of the First Baptist Church.

Hurst served as city safety service director from 1939 to 1941. He has been active in construction work with the Muskingum Valley Asphalt Co. Later he organized and opened the Farmers Feed & Supply Co. but disposed of it. He has been an active leader in Washington Co. for many years.

Jobs Are Fewer Than Year Ago

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 24. (UP)—The Indiana Employment Security Division gave evidence that mid-November jobs were far fewer than a year ago.

Employment in Hoosierland fell nearly 10 per cent between mid-October in 1948 and mid-October in 1949, the division reported.

Furthermore, that was before the full impact of the coal and steel strikes was felt.

There were 1,110,000 workers in industrial and commercial jobs last month, a decrease of 9.8 per cent from a year previously and 6.4 per cent from a month before.

The report said strikes were primarily responsible for a loss of almost 76,000 workers in state industries from mid-September to mid-October.

Druggist Seeks Tax Acquittal

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 24. (UP)—An Evansville druggist convicted on a charge of evading more than $8,000 in federal income taxes filed a petition today seeking acquittal.

Hillen J. Fenwick was convicted last January and sentenced to five years in prison and a $5,000 fine.

The U. S. Circuit court of appeals at Chicago reversed the conviction recently and now Fenwick seeks to avoid a retrial.

Inside WASHINGTON

MARCH OF EVENTS

Reveals FDR Selected National Airport Site

Airline Pilots' President Objected to Its Location

Special to Central Press

WASHINGTON. A Democratic congressman claims the site for Washington's national airport—where 55 persons lost their lives in a recent air disaster—was selected by President Franklin D. Roosevelt over the protests of airline pilots.

Rep. Robert Crosser (D), Ohio, said that President David Benck of the Airline Pilots association objected to the location, on the banks of the Potomac in Alexandria, Va., because it was hemmed in by tall buildings.

Crosser, chairman of the House interstate and foreign commerce committee, which has jurisdiction over civil aviation legislation, said Benck also pointed out that the site was on low ground and would have to be filled in at great expense.

Benck, Crosser added, favored Andrews Field, Md., about equidistant from the capital, as the ideal place for the heavily trafficked field.

President Roosevelt, however, stuck by his own preference. Nevertheless, Andrews became a busy air center operated by the Air Force.

WASHINGTON. Although the public has become more acutely aware of Communist spy activities in recent months, few people know that the United States is stepping up its own role behind the scenes of the cold war.

With no fanfare whatsoever, the Central Intelligence agency has been stepping up its counter-espionage activities and is now keeping the closest of tabs on all foreign undercover agents in this country.

At the same time, the "cloak and dagger" agency has expanded its own information gathering work abroad to keep United States officials abreast of military developments behind the iron curtain.

One recent break credited by many Washington "insiders" to the expanded and accelerated CIA was knowledge of the atomic explosion in Russia.

COLORADO AND THE CABINET. For the first time in history, on Dec. 1, a far western state will have two citizens in the cabinet at the same time. They are Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan and, when he takes his oath of office, Secretary of Interior Oscar L. Chapman. Both come from Colorado.

Brannan and Chapman also are from the same city, Denver. Thus, when Chapman takes the oath, it will be the first time in history that any western city has had two citizens in the cabinet. The only other city to have that honor in modern times was New York.

Besides hailing from Denver, both Brannan and Chapman live in the same building in Washington, the Westchester apartments. Another similarity in their lives is the fact that both married former school teachers.

CIVIL RIGHTS, OLD STYLE—Senator John Sparkman (D), Alabama, contends that all the hue and cry about southern lawmakers' opposition to civil rights has no basis whatever in cold fact.

Sparkman is showing around a letter from an Alabama Negro farmer to prove his point that whether southern congressmen are for or against civil rights depends on how you define the term.

The senator said the farmer asserted that it makes no difference to the Negro whether a civil rights program is passed so long as Congress continues to appropriate for good roads, good schools and good housing.

Said Sparkman: "It has always been my belief that these things are the true civil rights and a check of the record shows that southern Democrats have always given strong support to this type of legislation."

OBITUARY

A knock fell softly upon the door.

O gentle voice said "come" when Jesus called him home.

Jesus said, "I'm a good shepherd, the good shepherd given his life for the sheep, so once again he has opened the gates of his pastures. This time to welcome a loving husband and devoted father, R. J. James Beaman, son of James and Harriett Young Beaman was born in Washington township August 1, 1903.

As a child he attended the school in that community and helped with the work on the farm. When a young man he obeyed the call of the Father and became a member of the Canaan Methodist Church. His entire life was spent in this community except a short time spent in Indianapolis. In the year March 20, 1926 he was united in marriage to Mary Evelyn Williams. To this union was born two daughters, Nancy Ann and Linda Lou. Roy was a good boy, exemplary young man, who was a good neighbor and friend. He was of a quiet unassuming nature, a devoted husband, a kind and indulgent father and a dutiful son. Roy loved this world, his family, his parents and all his friends. His kind and cheerful ways endeared him to everyone he came in contact with. One great example of his kindness was, when he and his wife took Virginia Lee Carter into their home when she was a small child and reared her as their own. His health began to fail several months ago. He gradually grew worse and passed away at the Putnam county hospital Tuesday afternoon November 17, 1949. He leaves to mourn his departure, a loving wife, three daughters, mother and father, one brother, Ray of Indianapolis, one granddaughter, one grandmother and a host of relatives and friends.

One by one the Lords are severed.

Binding hearts together here, One by one new ties are added.

To the land that knows no tears, Our family circle has been broken.

A link gone from our chain, But the patting for a while, We know we will meet again. So let us hope to meet you Someday we know not when. We shall meet in a better land And never part again.

CAED OF THANKS

We wish to express our appreciation to all those who assisted us in any way at the time of the death of our loved one.

DAIRY HERD NOT OUTLET FOR EXCESS CORN CROP

Large supplies of corn on Indiana farms may tempt farmers to feed an excessive amount of corn to dairy cattle.

However, legumes continue to be the basis of the dairy feeding program. It is recognized that corn is an excellent feed for high milk production when fed in limited amounts in combination with good roughage or other feeds that make up for its deficiencies. Good quality roughage, such as alfalfa and other legume hays or silages, will furnish much of the protein needed with corn. Corn is principally a carbohydrate feed.

According to the agricultural extension bulletin "Dairy Guide" No. 139, the kind of roughage determines the grain mixture. Farmers feeding a good legume hay will use a grain mixture consisting of 400 pounds ground corn, 200 pounds ground oats and only 50 pounds of high protein feed.

Contrasted with this, when non-legume hay such as timothy or sudan grass is fed, equal parts of the above grain mixture will be necessary to meet the protein requirements. Copies of the bulletin are available, free, from the county agricultural agent.

The Purdue men point out further that the rate of grain feeding during the lactation for the winter months should be one pound of grain for each four or six pounds of milk. For economical production, dairymen should not overdo the grain feeding.

Ordinary raking and burning of corn stalks is not the recommended method of killing corn borers. The Purdue University entomologists continue to advise the complete plowing under of stalks with no residue left on top of the soil. Furthermore, burning destroys the organic matter and nitrogen. Although calcium, phosphorus and potash are not lost they are not available to many crop plants.

When corn is burned, the borers are killed, but the corn is also killed. The corn has been killed for three weeks. The corn is not available to many crop plants.

Have you ever thought of how much your outdoor holiday decorations express your personality?

Not only is a festive home an outward expression of your own holiday hospitality but when colorful lighting is part of the decoration, it can become a lighted greeting to all who see it.

Plan your lighting arrangements early for best results. If you're using lighted decorations for the first time, start with a simple theme and plan to develop it in succeeding years. Remember, imagination is an important part of outstanding Christmas decorations, so use it generously.

The four homes pictured above represent artistic and distinctive decorations that can be adapted to almost any home.

Floodlighting

Here the interesting architectural lines of the house are accentuated by floodlighting the whole house in a soft blue light. Projector floodlights (150-watt) using blue glass covers are concealed in low shrubbery on the front lawn. Commercial outdoor holders are used for the floodlights but many homemade-type holders can be fashioned from large size tin cans or firmets, too. Notice how a small evergreen trimmed in a conventional manner with red, green and yellow outdoor tree lights completes the arrangement.

Another popular way to take full advantage of the architectural lines of a house is to outline roofs or gables with strings of colored outdoor bulbs and garlands of greens as illustrated in the center photograph at the extreme top above. Festoons of lights are strung in long lines across the lawn and up the sides of the house. Notice how the lights are strung in long lines across the lawn and up the sides of the house. Notice how the lights are strung in long lines across the lawn and up the sides of the house.

Christmas OPENING

IN GREENCASTLE SATURDAY
NOVEMBER 26th

First, the time of Christmas in different places, and churches observed the festival in December, others in January and May.

First Christmas Day festival in Britain was according legend celebrated by King in the city of York, A.D. It lasted several days.

In the early Middle Ages Christmas had become the great popular festival. Churches decorated and plays concerning the nativity were enacted. Images of the Virgin and child were carried from house to house.

Shakespeare's time, the Christmas festivities often lasted 12 days. During this period no work was done of any kind.

The Armenian church observes Christmas on Jan. 6; the Dutch on Dec. 6; the French have their own particular Christmas observances as do the Germans.

"St. Nicholas is regarded as the special saint of the schoolboy, and certain of the customs of 'Montem Day' at Eton school in England, are said to have originated in his honor.

In France, Father Christmas is called Bonhomme Noel or Pere Noel.

In early England, Christmas was called 'Christ's mass,' which means 'Christ's mass.'

In Norway, Christmas gifts are hidden away and the children have to search for them. In Italy, the gifts are drawn from the 'tree of fate,' a custom which originated with the ancient Romans.

WHEAT FIELDS REVEAL NITROGEN SHORTAGES

Indiana wheat fields that show more yellowing than usual this fall is suffering from lack of nitro-rogen in most cases. All wheat, except late seeded wheat, has made excellent growth and consequently nitrogen needs are greater than usual.

Rains during October and cooling soils reduced the amount of soil nitrates available for wheat. Nitrogen applications in wheat fertilizers meet the need of this plant to some extent but in many fields are not adequate to meet the prolonged fall need. Indicated by yellowing of the tip of the leaf and purpling of the lower parts. Parts of fields or even parts of rows will show variable nitrogen supplies. Some- what uneven distribution of fall applications of fertilizer can be traced by these deficiency symptoms. Generally, nitrogen is more deficient on soils that are acid, as nitrification is decreased in the absence of adequate supplies of lime.

Light winter dress of manure, of applications of 20 to 25 pounds of elemental nitrogen next spring, as soon as spring growth starts, are recommended for fields showing this nitrogen starvation provided that they were adequately supplied phosphate and potash in the fertilization.

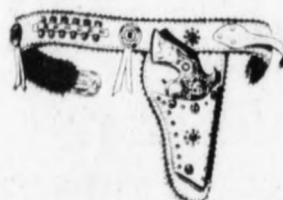

Under some conditions may be other causes for the general yellowing such as
